

Terms of Use for the INO Members' Online Community Space (September 2, 2025)

These Terms of Use define the conditions for using the INO Members' Online Community Space (hereinafter, "the Space"), operated by the Okinawa Institute of Science and Technology Graduate University (hereinafter, "OIST"). By using the Space, users are deemed to have agreed to these Terms.

1. Purpose

The Space is intended to facilitate smooth information sharing, communication, and networking between INO members and OIST.

2. Eligible Users

The Space may be used only by current INO members and individuals approved by OIST.

3. Important Notice

Do not post confidential information or any information that would cause problems if shared outside the Space.

4. Rules of Use

- Insulting, discriminatory, or harassing behavior toward other members or OIST is prohibited.
- Commercial promotion or solicitation is prohibited, unless prior approval is obtained from OIST.
- If sharing information that requires confidentiality, users must manage it appropriately and take sufficient care to prevent external leakage.
- Acts that infringe copyrights, portrait rights, or other intellectual property rights are prohibited.

5. Handling of Information

- Content posted in the Space is intended for information sharing among members.
- OIST does not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of any posted content.
- Members must not disclose to external parties any information shared by other members without permission.

6. Disclaimer

- OIST bears no responsibility for any damages arising from the use of the Space.
- OIST may change or suspend the contents of the Space without prior notice.

7. Suspension of Use

If a user violates these Terms, OIST may restrict or suspend that user's access to the Space.

8. Revisions to the Terms

OIST may revise these Terms as necessary. Revisions take effect once posted in the Space.

9. Termination upon Membership Withdrawal

When an INO member withdraws from the program, the use of this space will also conclude, and the member's access rights to the online community will be removed.

INO Office